CRITICAL AREAS VARIANCE APPLICATION – INTRODUCTION

(TYPE II & TYPE III)

What is a Critical Areas Variance?
Critical areas (or environmentally sensitive areas) are areas that possess important natural functions and embody a variety of important natural and community values. These include wetlands, streams, fish and wildlife habitat, geologic hazard areas, groundwater protection areas, and flood hazard areas. The mandatory measures taken to prevent and/or mitigate the adverse impacts associated with development and alteration in these areas may be partially waived in accordance with criteria established under Auburn City Code (ACC) 16.10.160.

What does Type II & Type III refer to?
Type II decisions are typically administrative decisions made by the City which include threshold determinations under SEPA. When SEPA is required, the City issues a notice of application which has a public comment period. Minor variances, defined as up to and including 10 percent of the requirement, are Type II decisions.

Type III decisions are quasi-judicial decision made by the Hearing Examiner following a recommendation by staff and a public hearing. Variances over 10 percent of the requirement are Type III decisions.

In each case, the written decision of the Planning Director can be appealed to the Hearing Examiner and the written decision of the Hearing Examiner to the Superior Court of the county in which the property is located (King County or Pierce County).

What is SEPA and how does it apply to Critical Areas Variance applications?
Critical areas variance applications may be subject to compliance with the Washington State Environmental Policy Act (SEPA) based on the presence of environmentally critical areas; projects that exceed specific thresholds (e.g. grading, number of dwelling units, timber removal, size of building); projects that require licensing for air emissions or discharges to water; or other factors. WAC 197-11-800 provides the specific thresholds which determine whether SEPA is required. If subject to SEPA, an environmental checklist application must be submitted with the application. After the Notice of Application comment period expires, the Planning Director – who is the City’s SEPA Responsible Official - issues a SEPA threshold determination (TD), or other SEPA decision as provided in ACC 16.06, RCW 43.21 and WAC 197-11. The SEPA decision is final unless the TD is appealed or the City revises the TD based on further comments during the appeal period.

If the SEPA Responsible Official issues a Determination of Significance (DS) because of probable significant impacts by the proposal, an Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) will be required before the City makes any decision on this application.
How long before I am notified if my application is complete?
At the time you submit an application, you must submit all of the written and graphic information listed in this application under “Critical Areas Variance Application Submittal Checklist.” Within 28 calendar days of receiving your application, City staff will determine if the application is complete based on the attached checklist. If your application is complete you will be notified in writing by City staff. If your application is not complete, you will receive a letter from City staff detailing required information to make your application complete.

How long before I know if the Critical Areas Variance has been approved or denied?
Current City code requires that all land use decisions be made within 120 days from the date of a complete application submittal, unless an applicant agrees to extend the processing of his/her application longer than 120 days.

For minor variances, the Planning Director will issue the decision on the proposal after the SEPA threshold determination is issued, when the SEPA appeal period concludes.

For other variances, a public hearing will take place before the Hearing Examiner once the appeal period for SEPA threshold determination has ended. Once the hearing concludes, then the hearing examiner will issue a written decision within 10 business days.

PLEASE NOTE: Applicants are responsible for complying with all City Codes and ordinances; and should review all City regulations that may be applicable to their proposed project. For assistance in determining which regulations are applicable, please contact the City of Auburn Permit Center.
